“It’s on the tip of my tongue…” is a saying that people use when they are thinking of something, but they can’t remember the word for it. Imagine that the words below are “on the tip of your tongue.” For each word, come up with a list of three keywords that best describe it.

Example:
You are thinking of the word… bee

1. insect
2. hive
3. honey

Directions: Now it’s your turn! Come up with three keywords that best describe the word you are thinking of.

You are thinking of the word… banana

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

You are thinking of the word… elephant

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________
Now think of your own words, along with three keywords that best describe each one.

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

You are thinking of the word…

You are thinking of the word…

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

You are thinking of the word…

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

You are thinking of the word…

1. __________________________
2. __________________________
3. __________________________

Find a partner and read your keywords out loud. Can your partner guess the word you are trying to describe? If you have time, come up with some more words and keywords to test out!